

CANADIAN

July/August 2009

WATER

TREATMENT

Canada's Complete Water Magazine

FIRST CONCERNS

FIRST NATIONS RIGHTS, WATER QUALITY AND SOURCE PROTECTION

SMALL FISH, BIG POND: LUNENBURG, N.S.

COTTAGE LIFE: TREATMENT AT THE CABIN

CONTAMINANTS: ARE WE LEARNING OUR LESSON?

PM #4085046

watertreatment.ca

$6.00

CANADIAN WATER TREATMENT

July/August 2009

Volume 9 Number 4

8

18

24

5 Editor's Message

Choose value: threats won't buy you business.
By John Nicholson

6 Letters Tap and bottle go head to head, sprinklers get smarter, phosphorus becomes preposterous.

FEATURES

8 Point/Counterpoint Sierra Club of Canada's Stephen Hazell and CWT's editor John Nicholson navigate the issues surrounding the NWPA amendments.

16 Interview Elmvale Foundation's William Shotyk interviews Chris Wood, author of Dry Spring: The Coming Water Crisis of North America.

31 Making the Grade Preparing Ontario's watershed report cards.
By Scott Lister and Rob Stavinga

FIRST NATIONS AND SMALL COMMUNITIES

18 Of the First Water The rights and roles of First Nations in source protection and water quality.
By Bryony Halpin

22 Boiling Point Small towns don't need to resort to stopgap methods to deal with poor water quality.
By Kerry Freek

24 Cold Snap Wastewater treatment solutions for Arctic communities.
By Brent Wootton and Agata Durkalec

26 Cottage Life Which water treatment option is the best choice for your cabin?
By Morgan Vespa

28 History in the Making Lunenburg's water system is being brought up to date.
By Katrina Nicholson

CONTAMINANTS

12 The Hit List How does a contaminant move up in the ranks?
By John Nicholson

14 Same Old Story New contaminants studies teach us the same old lessons.
By Colin Fricker

DEPARTMENTS

30 Liquid Assets Growth investment in water.
By David Henderson

34 Events WaterTech, Integrated Water Management, Investing in Water, and more.

36 Bottle Matters Tapping into bottle-less options.
By Kerry Freek

38 Water News What's new in the water industry.

40 Legal Getting a charge out of stormwater.
By Dianne Saxe

42 Business Watch Investing all year round.
By James Sbrolla

ABOUT THE COVER

Recent funding announcements for First Nations drinking water upgrades are putting a positive spin on the persistent problems of quality, ownership and protection. But are we actually making progress, or is it federal smoke and mirrors?

28

31