

WATER CANADA

NANO SILVER

Threat or Benefit?

Fracking: Responsible Water Practices

Top-Down Wastewater Regs

The Return of the Kitchen Pig

10

WATER CANADA

15

18

MAY/JUNE 2013

VOLUME 13 NUMBER 3

FEATURES

10 Canada, In Brief

Your provincial and territorial water policy roundup.

BY KERRY FREEK, SAUL CHERNOS, AND CLARK KINGSBURY

15 A Tale of Two Regions

Two coastal cities cope with integrating the new federal wastewater system effluent regulations.

BY KERRY FREEK

18 Everything but the Kitchen Sink

Advancing anaerobic digestion may herald the return of the garburator.

BY TONY KOBILNYK

24 Connected in the Country

Sustainable water protection systems for new rural developments provide a silver lining in Alberta.

BY SHANE SPARKS

28 For Frack's Sake

New tools for responsible reuse in hydraulic fracturing.

BY JOHN NICHOLSON

COLUMNS

22 Fine Print

Winnipeg and Shoal Lake take their drinking water dispute to court.

BY KERRY FREEK

26 Liquid Assets

Strategic steps for a more competitive water sector in Canada lead the way to global opportunities.

BY DAVID CRANE

30 Ask the Expert

Silver nanoparticles: threat or benefit?

BY KERRY FREEK

31 Rules and Regs

The federal budget reveals some hope for water.

BY NEIL E. THOMAS

38 H2Opinion

COREY DIAMOND says water conservation campaigns should follow in the footsteps of the electricity sector.

DEPARTMENTS

5 Editor's Note

The philosophy of wastewater.

BY KERRY FREEK

6 Comment

DAVID KOCAN AND MATTHEW MENDELSON introduce the Council of the Great Lakes Region.

7 Front

Video games as teaching tools, quotable quotes, and a peek at new online content.

32 News

Jobs, awards, acquisitions, and partnerships.

34 Events

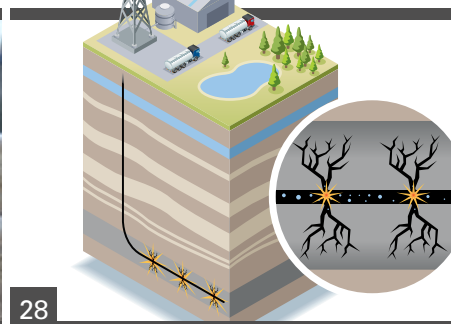

Connecting Water Resources, AMERICANA, WaterTech, TRIECA, and more.

22

24

28